ison, Wis., May 31—Because the son dry bill is "weak," "indefinite and uncertain," because it conflicts with the Volstead act and vice the constitution and law of the States, Gov. John J. Blaine today vetoed the bill and asked the legislature to pass a new measure which will be "reasonable and certain in its terms."

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS ADVERTISES FOR BIDS FOR REPAVEMENT

Plans and specifications for the repavement of Stevens Point's macadam streets with a two-inch bituminous concrete surface have been completed by W. F. Reichardt, consulting engineer, and the board of public works is advertising for bids for the work.

Under the terms of the request for bids, work must be started on or before July 1, 1921, and be completed not later than November 1, 1921. The bids will be opened at 7:30 o'clock in the evening of June 15 by the board of public works and a special meeting of the council will be held shortly thereafter to consider the recommendations of the board.

Sections of nine streets will be included in the repavement contract it is expected will be awarded.

TARIFF AND TAXES TO TAKE UNTIL FALL

WASHINGTON, May 31—The main purpose of the special session of congress was to revise the tariff and lighten the tax burden, but, according to conservative estimates today, these tasks will not be completed before late next fall.

The house ways and means committee, which has been framing the permanent tariff bill for two months, has struck several big snags and hope that the measure would be reported to the house by June 1 has been blasted completely. Chairman Fordney now thinks that the bill may be ready by June 15, but other members of the committee doubt if it will be reported by July 1.

The house will fight over the bill for at least a month. The last big tariff bill required five months of debate before it was sent to the senate.

MEXICO WARMS UP WILLING TO BE "RECOGNIZED" ON BASIS NOT OFFENSIVE TO HER DIGNITY

Washington, May 31—President Obregon of Mexico will accept the American memorandum on the question of recognition as a "basis for negotiations." It was declared here today by advisers of the Mexican president.

The exchanges which are now expected to follow between the two governments will soon develop an understanding that will prompt the United States to recognize the Obregon government. It was also believed in these quarters.

The next move by Mexico, it is thought, will be a reply from President Obregon to the communication or memorandum from Secretary of State Hughes, which was presented by George T. Summerlin, charge of the American embassy in Mexico City. Observers here think that if this is satisfactory American recognition may be extended forthwith.

POTATO MARKET "DEAD"

OFFERS FIRST SOLEMN MASS

REV. NICHOLAS L. GROSS IS PRINCIPAL IN IMPRESSIVE SERVICES AT LOCAL CHURCH

Nearly every seat in St. Stephen's church was occupied at the 10:30 o'clock services last Sunday morning, when Rev. Nicholas L. Gross, who was ordained to the priesthood on May 21, offered up his first solemn high mass. Shortly before the impressive services began, Joseph Smith Russell sang an Ave Marie solo and a few minutes later the celebrant was escorted from the parsonage by priests and altar boys.

Rev. Jas. C. Hogan, pastor of St. Stephen's, served as assistant priest, Rev. Xavier Khell of Walsh as deacon, Rev. H. G. Riordan of St. Francis as sub-deacon, Rev. S. J. Ulrik of Milwaukee as master of ceremonies, Rev. J. A. Bapst of Garrettsville, as thurifer, and Anthony Gross and John Peterson as acolytes. Other clergymen who occupied seats in the sanctuary were Rev. Wm. Reding of Wisconsin Rapids, Rev. L. M. Schorn of Custer, Rev. Andrew J. Quella of Lankford, Rev. H. J. Ehr and Rev. Victor Hopps of this city.

Extends Congratulations The sermon was preached by Rev. Geo. C. Ellers, professor at St. Francis' seminary and a former United States army chaplain with the rank of captain. Father Ellers warmly congratulated the newly ordained priest and also offered words of congratulation to the young man's parents and relatives and to St. Stephen's congregation. During his eloquent and instructive talk he made several interesting references to his experiences during the World war while serving in France.

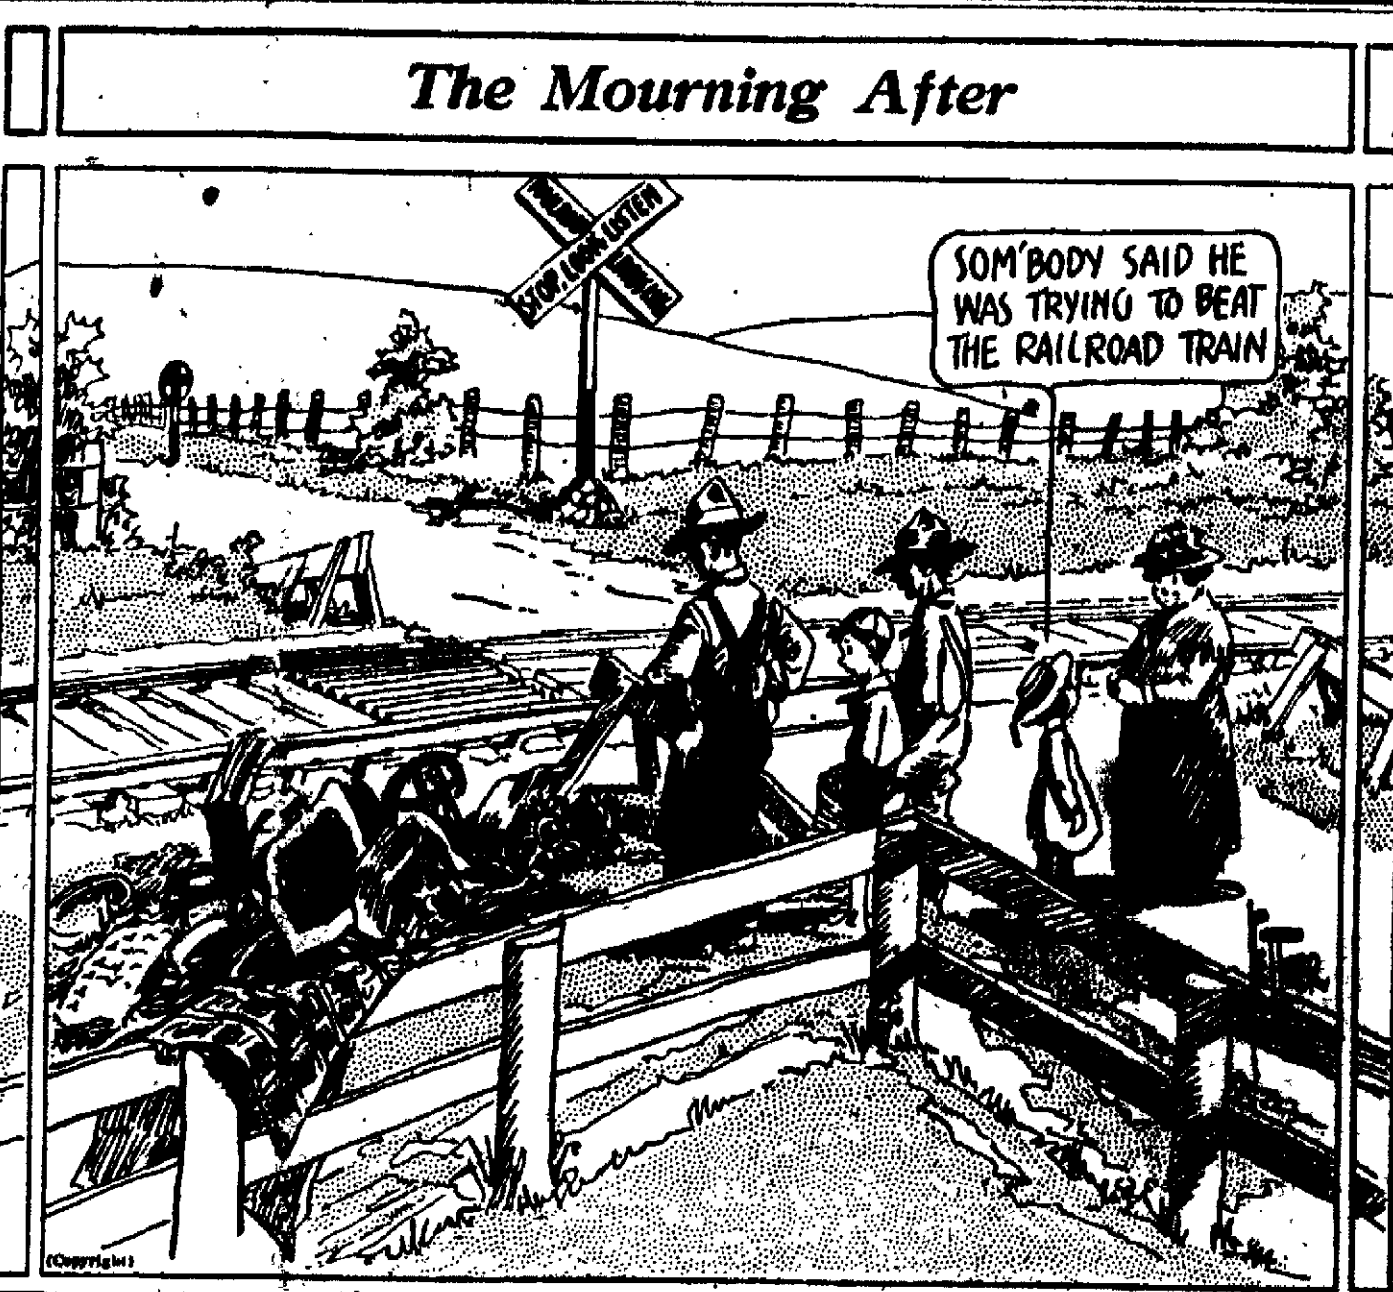

At the close of the morning services, Father Gross extended his blessing to the assemblage, as did also Rev. Bapst, a classmate of the young Stevens Pointers.

Many Relatives Attend Nearly one-third of the church auditorium was reserved by members of the Gross family and relatives of the newly ordained clergyman, many of whom came here from a distance. Among the number were Victor Gross, Jr., of Fond du Lac, Geo. Gross of Duluth and C. P. Gross and family of Wisconsin Rapids, the three being brothers of Rev. N. L. Gross; Mrs. Mary Jungers and son, Joseph of Milwaukee, Frank Ulrik of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Thomas of Marshfield, Mrs. Frank Mathews of Spring Lake, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Alois Stark of Knowlton, Mrs. Jacob Simonis, Mrs. Mary Simonis, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Simonis of Rosholt, Miss Helen Martini of Marshfield, Mrs. Peter Smith and son Peter of New Hope, Nicholas Simonis of Neenah, Miss Mary Christine Khell of Walsh, Miss Mary Stark of Wausau, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Koltz of Arnott, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Britz of Linwood.

Dinner is Served A one o'clock dinner, prepared under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Krems, was served at K. C. hall by the following young ladies, all cousins of Rev. Gross: Loretta and Rose Martini, Nora Miller, Margaret Klinkert, Margaret Frank, Mrs. Carl Jacobs, Irma Krems, Louise, Esther and Ruth Jacobs, Annette Miller of Ellis, Mayme Simonis of Hull, Minnie Britz of Arnott. About sixty partook of the substantial and well-prepared meal. A small number also returned to the K. C. rooms for supper.

To Be Assigned Soon Rev. Gross expects to remain in Stevens Point another couple of weeks, by which time a definite assignment will be given him in the Green Bay diocese.

Two Divorces Granted Two divorces were granted by Judge B. B. Park in circuit court of the latter part of last week. May Seavers was given a decree from Nicholas Seavers and Viola Bill won her freedom from Richard E. Bill.

TO DEMAND HANGING OF AN 11-YEAR-OLD

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BEGINS TRIAL OF LITTLE BOY ACCUSED OF KILLING ANOTHER

Knox, Ind., May 31—Judge William C. Pentecost today began the long-delayed trial of 11-year-old Cecil Burkett, who is charged with the murder of seven-year-old Bennie Slavin.

Difficulty was anticipated in getting a jury because of pronounced bias in Starke county. Prosecutor James A. Dilts charges that the crime was committed in cold blood and will demand the death penalty.

Coaxed Into Yard Prosecuting Attorney James A. Dilts says the shooting was due to bad feeling among the boys. Cecil and his brother Alfred, 9, and Frederick Scherman, 7, were playing in the Burkett backyard. Bennie Slavin and his sister Clara, 6, were in an adjoining yard. Cecil called to Bennie to come into his yard, but the latter refused. Cecil then held out a kite and tempted Bennie till finally he crossed into the other yard.

Then, the prosecutor says, Cecil opened an old squib and in cold blood shot the young boy, the bullet entering the right side at the back. The shooting was done with a .22-caliber rifle, property of the Burkett family. The wounded boy died a day later.

The Burkett boy denies the version of the prosecutor, saying he was cleaning a martin house at the top of a pole, his rifle leaning against the side of the house. He was taking some straw into the house to burn it, when he heard a shot and a yell, and saw Bennie Slavin running away and the gun was on the ground. He says he did not have a quarrel with Bennie.

Bennie Slavin was the son of a merchant, and his sister Clara will be an important witness. Clara says Cecil threatened to kill her and Bennie before Bennie was shot. Alfred Burkett, brother of Cecil, also tells of threats. It is said, while Bennie's parents say that twice before Bennie died he said, "Mother, Cecil Burkett shot me."

Michael Burkett, father of the youthful slayer, is a drudge hand, and there are six other children in the family. The father of the victim is Harry Slavin, a clothing merchant, who has three other children. The two families were neighbors and friends.

Guernsey Sale Closes PURE-BRED BULLS AND GRADE HEIFERS AND COWS SOLD AT AMHERST

Twenty head of pure-bred Guernsey bulls changed hands at Amherst on Thursday, the second day of sale put on by the Portage County Guernsey Breeders' association. The top price was $125, paid for a yearling consigned by John Blasky of Amherst.

Nineteen grade heifers and cows were sold, the top price being $120 for an animal consigned by the Loberg estate of Nelsonville. A number of bulls were taken by I. B. Hull of Viola, Wis. The sale on Thursday was attended by a fair-sized crowd. County Agent W. W. Clark was present both on Wednesday and Thursday, assisting in the management of the two-day affair.

Flaherty, of Philadelphia, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus. Candidates numbered 368 and came from all parts of Wisconsin and the middle west. A feature of the gathering was a banquet at the K. C. clubhouse on Grand avenue, Milwaukee, following which many eloquent talks were given.

STRIKERS CLOSE NORTHERN MILL AT GREEN BAY

SHERIFF AND DEPUTIES THREAT ASIDE BY CROWD WHICH STOPS STRIKE BREAKERS AT GATES

MILITIA IS ASKED TO ENFORCE LAW

GOVERNOR BLAINE, RECEIVING APPEAL OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES, WILL INVESTIGATE

Madison, Wis., May 31—Troops to quell labor disturbances at Green Bay were requested of Governor John J. Blaine today by District Attorney Carl Young of Brown county. Governor Blaine, who is at his home in Boswell, ordered an investigation of the trouble and announced his intention of dispatching troops to maintain law and order.

Labor difficulties are the outgrowth of a strike of all employees of three big paper mills at Green Bay. Keep Men Out

A request was made after Sheriff Ryan, of Brown county and a force of armed deputies were overpowered at the gates of the Northern Paper Mills this morning. The strikers, forming a large mob, pushed aside the sheriff and his men and barred the gates so none of the strike breakers employed by the company could enter. These tactics forced the mill to close down. Attempts on the part of the sheriff and his deputies to break the line of pickets placed about the mill by the strikers proved futile.

At noon today, Sheriff Ryan telephoned District Attorney Young he could not longer be responsible for the maintenance of order and urged Young to insist that the governor dispatch troops to Green Bay at once.

Picket Stabbed The outbreak followed the knifing of two union pickets yesterday by a strikebreaker. One of the pickets is believed to be fatally wounded.

The strike has been in progress for two months, following the announcement made by the three paper mills of the city of a 17 per cent reduction in the wage scale.

Two Mills Running The John Hobert company and the Northern Paper Mills, employing a force of 400, were able to continue operations by the use of strike breakers.

Two Companies Ready Governor Blaine is believed to be speeding from Boswell to Madison by automobile to take charge of the situation. It is understood at his office that he will call several Green Bay men to confirm the statement of the sheriff that the situation is beyond control of the authorities, before troops will be ordered out. The national guards at Appleton and Neenah probably will be used in case the governor decides intervention is necessary.

Interference Must Be Justifiable

"Secretary of War Weeks is to be commended for his disinclination to dispatch federal troops to the mining districts of Kentucky and West Virginia in response to the requests from the governors of those two states for aid in quelling disturbances. From the beginning of this government the relationship of the states to the federal authority has always been delicate, and often has been the cause of serious rupture, in fact, the Civil war was due to the insistence of certain states upon their individual rights. The police power of the states has been jealously guarded when the federal government has indicated an intention to interfere for any reason, and some of the bitterest debates in the national senate and house of representatives have been precipitated by senators and members of congress vigorously protesting against a bill that seemed to infringe upon the prerogatives of the states that they represented. The federal government should be extremely careful in taking the initiative in such interference, but it should be no less careful when the first move is made by the states in asking for federal aid, as is the case in Kentucky and West Virginia.

Our history is full of instances where individual states have indignantly resented an attempt by the government at Washington to invade their local rights. The very constitution itself would have failed of ratification had not assurances been given that the first congress would propose amendments certifying to those rights. That was done on September 25, 1789, when the first ten amendments were submitted to the states and subsequently ratified. In 1803 the state of Pennsylvania went so far as to oppose by its militia the enforcement of an order of a federal court. Just before the War of 1812 the New England states opposed the so-called "restrictive system." In 1825 Georgia defied the supreme court in the famous Cherokee cases. A few years later certain northern states passed "personal liberty laws" and obstructed the operation of the fugitive slave act. In 1832 South Carolina "nullified" a federal tariff law, thus contributing materially to the situation that culminated in the Civil war. In more recent times the state of Illinois resisted President Cleveland when he sent federal troops into Chicago during the Pullman strike, although he based his action solely on the fact that the strike was interfering with the transportation of United States mails.

Sometimes it has been the legislative, sometimes the judicial and sometimes the executive branch of the federal government that has provoked the states to resistance to the authority at Washington. Always such interference has tended to the destruction of our form of government, and once it almost accomplished the dissolution of the union. It is very easy for a state executive, when there is a disturbance of the peace, to call for aid from the national government, which may have federal troops encamped nearby. But that aid should never be granted until the police power of the state has exhausted its resources. Not only is there danger of a clash of authority in the one instance, but there is the establishment of a precedent that is bound to return and plague us in the future.

In the mine outbreak in Kentucky and West Virginia there was no evidence that the state authorities had exerted themselves to restore peace. There seemed to be, rather, an attempt to shoulder on to the federal government the cost and responsibility of putting down the riot. Secretary Weeks refused to be moved by the lurid reports of disorder that came from local officials, and carefully preserved the federal power within its proper sphere.

Lowering Freight Rates to Stimulate Business

President Harding's Marion Star suggests a reduction of freight rates with the object of stimulating business. It believes the troubles of the roads are partly due to their prices being so high that customers are not buying their service. The president's paper says:

"Last fall, when the interstate commerce commission yielded to the plea of the railroads for an increase of twenty per cent in freight rates, railroad executives held to the belief that their revenues would be increased to a considerable extent. The opposite has been the effect. "That the increase in freight rates has had something to do with existing industrial and business conditions is almost generally admitted. The railroads find themselves in the situation of the man who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs. They have the higher freight rates, but they do not have the business from which to collect them. Shipping costs have reached a point that makes them a real factor in the transaction of business.

"The rate on lemons from California is almost equal to the price for which foreign-grown lemons are selling in New York city. It will easily be seen that lemons are not shipped from California to the east and the railroads are getting no revenues from such shipments. The interstate commerce commission is considering a lowering of freight rates, with the object of giving some aid to industry and business by lowering the operating costs, and at the same time add to the incomes of the railroads by increasing the shipping business."

Echoes of Harvey's Speech

Probably no recent event has so signified the Americanism in our government as the speech of Ambassador Harvey on the occasion of his welcome by the British premier and other high English officials. Pledges of American sacrifices for European rehabilitation were quite lacking from Mr. Harvey's remarks. Far from apologizing for the fact that he is a representative of the United States, he gloried in it. "Precisely as your ambassador went to Washington as an unalloyed Briton, I come to London as an unalloyed American," he said. America's rights are in the keeping of a president and his London representative who do not hesitate to tell Europe that they are objects of their first concern.

Col. Harvey's declaration of the motives that inspired America to send her soldiers across the water rings with the Americanism that is found throughout his address. "Far more prevalent until recently was the impression that we went to war to rescue humanity from all kinds of menacing perils," said the ambassador in recollection of the beautiful idealisms uttered so frequently by the former president. "Not a few remain convinced," he continued, "that we sent our young soldiers across to save this kingdom, France and Italy. That is not the fact. We sent them solely to save the United States of America, and most reluctantly and laggarly at that."

Fluffy Nonsense

"The Nation" is running a series of super-heated editorials against war with England. That's all right, but these warnings are useless. There will be no war with England and everybody knows it. Neither government wants it and the people of both nations are unalterably opposed to it. They may have their differences, and quarrel even to the point of shaking their fists in each other's faces—but war? No! Then besides each country has had all it wants of war for the next fifty years. The government of either nation that would propose such a plan for arbitrating differences would simply be mobbed and cast out of power. England knows too much to sacrifice her best colonial possession by going to war with the United States and the United States knows too much to take up arms against a power like England. It would be suicide for both countries and they are thoroughly aware of the fact. Publications like "The Nation" would do well to put mufflers on and try to look tranquil. There isn't going to be any war with England.

Mexican Recognition

The fact that President Obregon has indicated his unwillingness to sign a formal agreement as a condition of recognition of Mexico is by no means conclusive that a complete understanding between that country and the United States will not be reached in the near future. President Harding is exceedingly anxious to re-establish the cordial relations with Mexico that prevailed for so many years previous to the abdication of former President Diaz. It is known at Washington that informal exchanges between the two governments would not be objectionable to Obregon, and it is through them that a return to normal conditions is anticipated. Considerable progress toward a solution of the difficulties has already been made. Assurances as to safeguards for foreign investments have been forthcoming from the Mexican government, and public declarations by President Obregon in their support tend to establish the right of Mexico to recognition.

TRIBUTE PAID TO NATION'S HEROES

VETERANS OF THREE WARS

PARTICIPATE IN MEMORIAL

DAY OBSERVANCE

ON MONDAY

GRAVES ARE DECORATED

SERVICES HELD AT MONUMENT

AND AT THE MAJESTIC

THEATER

With veterans of three wars participating, Memorial day was appropriately observed in Stevens Point on Monday. Business was generally suspended throughout the day and air weather prevailed during the forenoon, when the memorial program was carried out.

Following the decoration of the graves of soldier and sailor dead by members of the Woman's Relief Corps and war veterans, ritualistic services in honor of the unknown dead were conducted at the soldiers' monument at the court house by the Relief Corps. Here the audience joined in singing a verse of "Nearer My God to Thee." Weber's band played and Battery B, 120th Field Artillery, stood at attention. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Charles Sumner Pier, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

From the court house the procession moved to the Majestic theater. Leading the way was Weber's band, followed by a color guard, including a soldier, sailor and marine, Battery 3, Spanish American war veterans, World war veterans and members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., the last two groups in cars. Among the World war veterans in the procession was a group of disabled men who are patients at River Pines sanatorium, for whom cars were also provided.

Veterans Are Honored

On arriving in front of the Majestic, Battery E and the contingent of Spanish-American and World War veterans opened ranks and stood at attention while the disabled World War veterans passed through and entered the building. Similar honors were then accorded to the little group of Civil war veterans—six in number, the surviving members of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic, an organization once numerically strong, but now embracing but a handful of men who fought for the preservation of the union.

Program at Theater

President John F. Sims of the State Normal school presided during the exercises at the court house and gave a brief address on the significance of Memorial day, in which he paid a tribute to those who founded the republic and those who, in the wars that have followed, fought for the preservation of the principles that gave the nation birth.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address was given by M. M. Ames, who also briefly commented on the circumstances that accompanied its delivery by Lincoln on the field of Gettysburg.

Two young clergymen who served overseas during the World war, Rev. Rufus Huddloff, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church of Stevens Point, and Rev. L. G. Schorn, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church at Custer, took part in the program. Rev. Mr. Huddloff gave the invocation and Father Schorn delivered an address.

Recounts Brave Deeds

In the course of his remarks Father Schorn touched upon the principles upon which America was founded, recounted briefly the deeds of those who have fought and died for those principles and called upon all Americans to be ever loyal to their country and zealous of its welfare, to the end that a government truly representative of the people, stronger in righteousness than ever before, may be handed down to posterity. "I feel sure that if all of you could have been with me in France on the first Memorial day after the armistice, if you could have looked upon the row after row of crosses extending as far as the eye could reach, each marking the last resting place of an American soldier who gave his life for his country; if you could have felt the solemnity of that occasion, you would appreciate more than ever before the true significance of Memorial day," Father Schorn said.

Other numbers on the program were a solo by Miss Eleanor Van Hecke, flag drill by students of the State Normal training school under the direction of Miss Ella L. Wieg, selection by a public school eighth grade class directed by Miss Edna Becker and the singing of America by the audience, led by M. M. Ames. At the close of the program benediction was pronounced by Rev. Charles Sumner Pier and taps were sounded by Darwin Shumway.

Poppies in Evidence

The poppy, memorial day emblem of the American Legion, was much in evidence throughout the day. A large quantity of these, in paper, were made by Mrs. N. Berens, mother of Romulus C. Berens, after whom the local American Legion post was named.

A Memorial day window in the Hannon Bach pharmacy attracted much attention. This consisted of a display of pictures of Portage county World War veterans, arranged by the Portage County Historical commission. The pictures were gathered by Mrs. N. A. Week and Miss Ellida Moon.

Special Service Sunday

A Memorial day service was conducted by Rev. Charles Sumner Pier at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, at which members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. were honored guests. Rev. Mr. Pier delivered an inspiring address, emphasizing particularly the deeds of those who fought for the union in the Civil war.

EXPIRES IN THE WEST

SISTER OF W. B. PETT OF THIS CITY DIES AT LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Gordon Robertson, who formerly lived in this city, a sister of W. B. Pett, 918 Main street, passed away at Los Angeles, Calif., last Saturday. A telegram was received announcing her death but gave no particulars as to the cause. Funeral arrangements are not known here at this time.

Mrs. Robertson, whose maiden name was Miss Mary Pett, was engaged in missionary work and returned in 1920 from Africa, where she had devoted nearly six years to this field of endeavor. She met her husband in that country and was married to him there. He is also an American missionary, and came to the United States with her.

Mrs. Robertson visited in Stevens Point for six weeks prior to the middle of last November and was also joined here by her husband. While in the city they were guests at the Pett home. Both spoke on missionary subjects at the local Baptist church and before various church organizations while in the city. The couple had planned to resume their missionary work in Africa after spending the winter in the west.

A. C. WILMOT HERE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

EARLY DAY FLOVER RESIDENT

COMES TO OBSERVE MAY

30 WITH ARMY COMRADES

RADES

A. C. Wilmot, an early day resident of the town of Plover and who numbers many old friends throughout Portage county, was here from Chicago to observe Memorial Day with army comrades. He was joined by his two sons, Walter Wilmot of Minneapolis, and John Wilmot of Chicago. Mr. Wilmot, or "Tip," as he is known to the old timers, takes pardonable pride in a substantial improvement just completed at Plover cemetery, where an ornamental fence across the entire front, while an equally substantial fence was built along the sides and rear. The cost of the work amounted to $1,122, of which Mr. Wilmot and his two sons, Walter and John, contributed $300. The balance was paid by the town board of Plover. The entrance gate, which is located near the front center, is of handsome design and greatly improves the appearance of this burial ground. A strip of ground twelve feet in width, adjoining on the east, was donated by M. F. Pierce and has been cleared of trees and stumps. A drive was built along this line to serve as an exit for vehicles. Along the entire frontage of nearly 600 feet are iron posts, eight feet apart, each set in concrete.

BOARD REJECTS BUILDING BIDS

SUPERVISORS VOTE TO DELAY CONSTRUCTION OF NEW COUNTY ALMS HOUSE

COST THOUGHT TOO HIGH

WOULD ENTAIL EXPENSE OF APPROXIMATELY $20,000, COMMITTEE SAYS

(From Tuesday's Daily)
The Portage county board of supervisors, at a special meeting today, voted to reject all bids for the erection of an alms house on the county arm at Lake Emily. Motion to reject the bids was made and carried by a unanimous vote after a special committee reported recommending such action.

The board, with all members present except Supervisor Gilbert of Rossett, met at 10 o'clock and opened bids. A special committee was then appointed to submit a report, the committee being composed of chairman Park and Supervisors Atwell, Wilson, Halverson and Timm. Supervisor M. J. Mersch was called in to consult with the committee regarding the bids.

Committee Reports
At the session this afternoon the committee recommended that all bids be rejected and the board concurred. It was estimated that the cost of the building project complete, including expense of moving barns and other buildings, from the old site to the new location on Lake Emily, would be approximately $50,000 on the basis of lowest figures submitted, this figure of the opinion that it would be better to delay building until such time as it can be done at a lower cost. The bids for the general construction work, seven in number, ranged from $22,803 to $37,400. In addition to these bids, figures were submitted for electric wiring, plumbing and painting.

Will Readvertise
After rejecting the bids, the board voted to motion to readvertise for bids to be received up to November 10, 1921, when the annual meeting of the board will begin.

NEWSPAPER BEST NOVELTIES WASTE

CONCENSUS OF OPINION OF BANKERS OF GROUP 6 AFTER THOROUGH DISCUSSION

Portage county bankers were prominent at the meeting of Group 6 of the Wisconsin Bankers' association at Wausau Saturday. The meeting was presided over by W. F. Collins of Arnett, president of the group. Stevens Point bankers took active part in the discussions.

Those present from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dunagan, Wm. Raup, P. J. Jacobs and daughters, Louise, Esther and Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Berens, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Larsen.

Delegates to state convention, K. Andrews, Colby.

Alternate, J. V. Berens, Stevens Point.

Executive committee members, F. G. Wanek, Antigo, H. A. Maurer, Dorchester.

Advertising Discussion

Walter Distelhorst, advertising manager of the First Wisconsin National bank, Milwaukee, showed samples of advertising clipped from state papers. He deprecated the value of most of the syndicate copy, as it was not distinctive enough and did not fit the community in which it was used. Its comparative cheapness, he said, was no inducement, as a poor ad was worse than none.

His suggestion that calendars and novelty specialties for free distribution by banks was often as good as newspaper advertising was promptly denied by a number of bankers present, one after another, asserting that the cost of calendars, pencils, rules and other novelties was money thrown away.

Newspaper Best

J. W. Dunagan was particularly insistent that newspaper advertising was much the best investment, as it reached all classes of the community. A few others, from very small villages said that the country press was often ill fitted to put up good advertisements, and they were forced to use circular letters and other advertising.

Considerable rivalry was disclosed between cities which claimed to have been the first to cut out calendar and novelty advertisements, first Marshfield and New London, and then Antigo claiming the honor, but Wausau came into the ring at last and asserted its claim as the first to abandon distributing costly trinkets.

Other speakers included F. G. Swaboda, Marathon county agent, V. L. Morissette of the Pier Lumber company, H. C. Berger and W. G. Coopers, secretary of the Wisconsin Bankers' association.

Resolutions were passed favoring a uniform plan for Christmas savings clubs and uniform banking hours including Saturday noon closing.

Mr. Kluck obeyed, the robbers getting upwards of $100 in cash, according to report. It was also stated that they took a revolver which was in the building, and a pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Kluck. The trousers were searched after the pair left the building and then discarded beside the road.

The two men gained access to the place by prying open a window, and it is believed they were familiar with the surroundings. They threatened to take his life if he did not obey their demands. The hold-up occurred at 2 o'clock in the morning.

CONFESS TO BREAKING INTO BARBER SHOP AT AMHERST JUNCTION

(From Friday's Daily)

Gerald Maine, Walter Krusch and Guy Engum, Stevens Point youths, were arraigned in Justice G. L. Park's court this forenoon, charged with driving an automobile without the owner's consent. They pleaded guilty, waived preliminary examination and will appear before Circuit Judge B. B. Park in the near future for sentence.

The three young men were arrested on complaint of Felix Kluck of Amherst Junction, whose car was taken from his private garage there early Thursday morning and driven to a point near McDill, where it was abandoned. Maine, Krusch and Engum had been seen at a dance in Amherst Junction Wednesday night and suspicion was directed toward them. They were arrested Thursday evening by Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos and Officer John L. Frymark.

Confess to Robbery

Following their arraignment in court, the three youths confessed to being implicated in the robbery of the barber shop of J. A. Miller of Amherst Junction Wednesday night. Accompanied by Sheriff John A. Berry and Chief Hofsoos, Maine and Krusch went to their rooms and produced various articles stolen from the Miller shop. Engum was accompanied by District Attorney Byron J. Carpenter to the yard back of the Wozzalla restaurant on the South Side, where, in an old piece of stove pipe under some boards, an electric hair clipper, some razors and a razor strap were found. All of the loot taken from the shop has been recovered with the exception of two razors, according to the authorities.

Fried Window Open

Entrance to the shop had been effected by prying up a window. Engum was for several years in the employ of Mr. Miller and on Wednesday evening visited the latter in his shop. The robbery was committed while the dance was in progress.

Gerald Maine was recently found guilty in county court of transporting and having in his possession intoxicating liquor. He appealed to the circuit court, where the case is now pending.

BRITISH BLACK WATCH REGIMENTS ARRIVAL HELP. FUL TO ITALIANS AND GERMANS

BY CARL D. GROAT

United Press Staff Correspondent.
Oppeln, Upper Silesia, May 31.—Polish insurgents at Opfel have continued according to Italian officers here today. There was terrific fighting in the town last night. Italian guards said it was entirely within the Polish lines. The allied dispatch said they believed it was an indication that the Polish movement is breaking up in the face of stiff German opposition, and the threat of harsh action by the allies.

The Italians were overjoyed at the arrival of a battalion of British yesterday, a portion of the famous Black Watch, which was given an ovation as it passed into Oppeln. General Von Hoefer, commander of the German volunteers, said he too believed the Polish forces were disintegrating. "We have been trying to run this affair in cooperation with the allies," he said. "The troops under my command were worried because we were out of means of defense. General Le Rond (French) promised us safety but we didn't get it." General Von Hoefer is about 60 years old but is well kept up and is as active as a boy.

JAFFKE AWARDED $12,500 DAMAGES

SUIT INSTITUTED AT FOND DU LAC AS OUTGROWTH OF WRECK ON SOO COMES TO CLOSE

Paul Jaffke was awarded $12,500 by a circuit court jury at Fond du Lac Wednesday afternoon. He sued the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company for injuries which he received in an accident near Snell's crossing on August 30, 1920. James Dollard, engineer, lost his life in the wreck. The damage action was one of the most bitterly contested cases of the term.

Witnesses who appeared for Jaffke testified toward the general contention that the track at the point where passenger train No. 3 was wrecked last August was in bad shape. The deposition of Dick Fenton, fireman on Soo train No. 17, which went over the track a few minutes ahead of the ill-fated No. 3, was read into the case.

Fenton swore that the spot where No. 3 tipped over, has always been regarded as a dangerous spot by the railway men. He said that his engineer, McCoy, when approaching the spot, always "cut her down" and the long train went over it at a speed of less than 25 miles per hour. Even with that reduced speed the engine rolled and pitched in an alarming way, he said. He testified that on the night of the wreck of No. 3, he was firing on No. 17 and that when the heavy locomotive hit the bad spot it rolled worse than it ever had before.

Mrs. Paul Jaffke was on the train during the trial and testified that her husband was a nervous and physical wreck as a result of his experience in the wreck. Among other witnesses was one of the head nurses at St. Joseph's hospital at Neenah, where Jaffke was taken after the accident and where he was confined for some time.

STATE LEADS IN ROAD WORK

WISCONSIN TO SPEND NEARLY TWENTY MILLIONS THIS YEAR, DONAGHEY TELLS
LOCAL AUDIENCE

CONSTRUCTION COST DOWN

BIG SUM MADE AVAILABLE BY CALLING HALT WHEN PRICES WERE HIGH

"This is the state's biggest year in road construction. We have let more contracts and planned more work than ever before while other neighboring states are practically at a standstill."

This was the statement of J. T. Donaghey, maintenance engineer, who came to Stevens Point from Madison on Wednesday to speak before the Chamber of Commerce in the evening in place of F. A. Cannon, who was detained because of important highway legislation now pending.

Mr. Donaghey declared that during the past several years the Wisconsin highway department has refused to let contracts in a wholesale way but has curtailed expenses to a minimum, believing contract figures have been too high. This has made available a large sum of money, nearly 30 million dollars in all, for construction and maintenance, and of this amount 16 million has been contracted for and the state will do in all this season 20 million dollars worth of highway work.

Cost Much Lower
Reference was made by the speaker to contract awarded in Iowa where a Wisconsin contractor was given the job at a figure which permitted him to sub-let it and still make $6,000 per mile. "We didn't believe this is good business," Mr. Donaghey stated, "and as the result of waiting until this year we are getting our work done now at approximately 50 per cent of the cost to Iowa and Illinois. Your own contract south of the city bears out the low bids now coming in. It is possible for you to build one and two-thirds additional miles because of this condition." He referred to the case of a road near Beaver Dam, where a contract has been awarded this year at $6,000 a mile less than the lowest bid last season. Waukesha county this season is building 44 miles of 18-foot concrete road and has floated a four and one-half million dollar bond issue. The material is strictly local, all team or motor truck hauled, and the big road construction program has given employment to many men.

Points Out Danger
The apparent willingness of county boards to appropriate too large sums for road work, increasing the burden of taxation, was termed a danger by the maintenance engineer, who declared that many counties of the state are now taxed or bonded almost to their limits and should go slow and not create additional taxes spending only the money available by past funds. Prices are declining on many commodities, he said, and the tendency is in this direction. For that reason the state is advising its division engineers to encourage the counties to stay within their appropriations.

Mr. Donaghey then turned to an explanation in detail of the new highway bill, now before the legislature, which he said is aimed to equalize the burden of taxes and provide a more equitable source of revenue for highway and maintenance work. The measure will do away with the present method of calling on each county to meet one-third of the total road costs, cutting down approximately four-tenths of a mill on the present taxation. In Portage county alone the speaker said, a saving of $15,000 would be made.

Put Cost on Car Owner
"Road improvement has saved many times its cost to owners of motor vehicles and for that reason we believe that every dollar the car owner pays should go into the fund for construction and maintenance," the speaker said. "The new bill provides for a new method of financing road improvement in the future. A $10 registration fee must be paid and in addition to this a special privilege tax of two per cent of the valuation of the car, this to be paid when application for registration is made. Each car owner will assess his own machine. We have thrown safeguards around the bill so that each owner will make an honest assessment. The license plates will contain serial numbers designating the classification each car is in. The public will therefore know at a glance what a man's car is assessed at and with this method no one will go far wrong."

"An additional protective feature provides that the car owner cannot collect a larger amount from an insurance company than he has assessed his car at. The proposed law also provides for changing the value of a car when a complaint is made, the local assessor to make the re-adjustment and the car owner to make a double payment if it is determined that he has attempted to violate the law. We believe this law would provide a total of eight millions and with this amount the present money demanded by direct taxation will be taken care of. Twenty-five per cent of the tax paid in will be returned to the county on the basis of the cars owned by such county." The speaker said that this method would mean that the county gets two and one-half times as much state aid as under the present system. In Portage county approximately $25,000 would revert back, instead of $10,000. This method of taxation would also relieve the local board from making direct taxation assessments.

Protest by Milwaukee
Mr. Donaghey said that the highway bill is meeting opposition from Milwaukee as it will take $400,000 away from that city and distribute it about the state. Objection by Milwaukee officials on Wednesday necessitated Mr. Cannon remaining in Madison instead of coming to Stevens Point to speak. He was to meet Milwaukee's mayor and other city officials in an effort to secure an adjustment of the differences and the passage of the bill.

The money raised by the new system, meeting other assessments they are now paying, the state engineer said, and will more than offset the total amount now paid. It is the plan to finance all of the road and maintenance work by the special privilege tax and license fee. This system has just been adopted in Minnesota by a referendum vote.

Over-Loading Blamed
Turning to the subject of the damage done to roads by motor cars, Mr. Donaghey said that over-loaded cars do more damage to highways than heavier machines. He said that the horse power rating was not a just method of taxation, believing the valuation feature the right way. Farmers are compelled to pay personal property taxes to the extent that they exceed their income taxes and therefore pay on their car each year, while many men in towns and cities escape paying on their cars because their income tax is larger than their personal property tax, the speaker said. As a result of this method there are from 50,000 to 60,000 cars in the state which go untaxed and from which the state receives no revenue for highway and maintenance purposes. "Not 50 per cent are paying a personal property tax and this new bill makes every one pay a special privilege tax before he can drive his car," Mr. Donaghey declared.

The speaker told of another provision of the bill placing the election of the county highway commissioner in the hands of the county highway committee instead of the county board of supervisors.

Truck Bill Proposed
Referring to the truck bill, which is also before the legislature, the Madison man said that many complaints had been received of the ravages of trucks and that to stop destruction of roads the proposed legislation classifies trucks into three divisions each with a maximum tonnage according to the nature of the road which is used. Class A provides for a maximum of 12 tons, including the weight of the truck, and is for roads with a concrete base and improved tops, class B is the gravel or macadam road and the maximum tonnage seven and one-half tons while class C restricts the total weight on dirt roads to four and one-half tons. "We can't afford to build roads that will hold up a 10-ton truck," the speaker said. "The road you are building near this city will hold up five-ton loads for years and years but not a 10-ton or a 15-ton load. We want to do away completely with the trucks of this heavier class which do so much destruction and undo all of the road work accomplished. They are few in number in the state, totalling only about 50 in all. It was explained that provision was made in the truck bill for a scale of license fees, depending upon the capacity of the vehicle and the nature of its use."

TOWN IS DISCONTINUED

BASS LAKE ABANDONED AND BUILDINGS MOVED TO PEARSON

L. Peterson, an ex-resident of Rosholt and a local candidate for sheriff in this county, now logging superintendent for the Langlade Lumber company, has removed from Bass Lake to Pearson where for the next 10 years the company will operate and where it has large tracts of timber. The Langlade Lumber company will operate about 1000 acres this summer for the purpose of hauling bark, or playing on old, about two hundred men. Work is being done in some of the camps last week. More rain is needed to put the logs in the best condition for floating.

The company is remodeling its old store building at Pearson into a large boarding house. A number of the houses at this place are being loaded on flat cars, or taken to Pearson and other buildings there will be sold or torn down. The postoffice at Bass Lake has been discontinued. Some logs are being loaded at the landings saving employment to a small number of men.

FREE INFORMATION

TO STATE TOURISTS

SPEAKER EXPLAINS FEATURES
OF NEW SERVICE PLANNED
BY STATE—REPORT ON
CAMP SITE MADE

J. T. Donaghey, maintenance engineer who addressed the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening, explained the features of a highway information service to be installed this season by the state highway department for the benefit of tourists and other travelers.

"We are going to be able to tell you the type of surfacing on every foot of highway," he declared. Telephone service is to be provided at the offices of the various division engineers for the convenience of motorists.

The highway information service includes blue prints issued each week showing the exact condition of each road, including detours, and daily weather forecasts are to be posted along with the report. Changes will be made weekly as new roads are completed and opened up and the detailed description of each highway will enable the car driver to know definitely the condition of the road. The service is being sold at cost to hotels, garages and other establishments wanting it. Sixteen weekly blue prints are to be mailed out beginning June 1 and each place taking the service must agree to provide a frame in which to post the information.

M. E. Bruce, chairman of a local committee on a camp site, reported that detailed plans had been worked out for establishing a tourists' camp at the local fair grounds. The grounds are to be policed by local boy scouts, a shed equipped with tables, benches and a rack for a register, gas service provided and fire places built. Twenty-five signs will be placed along the route showing travelers just where to go. In addition to this, the state maintenance engineer explained that the state would provide signs on its trunk lines at a point near the site.

It is estimated that the total cost of equipping the camp site here would be $250. Mr. Bruce declared that the money would have to be raised by public subscription, as no fund was available for this purpose. He said that every automobile party which stops in the city over night spends an average of $10 and that by providing an attractive camping site in Stevens Point several hundred thousand dollars would be spent here during one season.

Secretary Body, who also spoke on the subject, emphasized the point that all travelers would be guests of the city and that every effort should be made for their comfort so that they would think kindly of Stevens Point. The Chamber of Commerce will keep in touch with each tourist who registers in the book kept at the camp site. In 30 days each one will be sent a letter asking for suggestions as to how Stevens Point can be made a better city and every three months literature will be mailed in the hope that the tourists will return this way another year.

Members of the committee in charge of the camp, who are working with Mr. Bruce are Dr. W. W. Gregory, G. A. Gullikson, W. S. Delzell and Charles Currier.

Dr. F. A. Southwick reported that a rest room would soon be provided for the general public, if present plans materialize, and that this would be of convenience to the tourists who pass through or visit in the city this season. It will be equipped as a double house, with a rest room and also kitchen accommodations. With the camp site and rest room in operation, visitors to this city will be well taken care of.

ELEANOR MAE COWEN DIES AT CLYBOURN HOME—NEWS IS KEPT FROM MOTHER

IN MICHIGAN
HOSPITAL

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Eleanor Mae Cowen, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cowen of Gladstone, Mich., former residents of this city, died at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clybourn, 529 Strong's avenue, at 12:50 o'clock this morning. Her death was caused by cyclic vomiting, with which she was stricken on Monday, two days after she came here for a visit.

The little girl's mother is in a hospital at Escanaba, Mich., where a daughter was born to her on May 18, and has not been informed of the death. Mr. Cowen, called here from Gladstone, left this afternoon for Escanaba in company with David McGill of this city, father of Mrs. Cowen, to carry the sad news to her bedside.

Mrs. Clybourn went to Gladstone a week ago Monday, returning to this city last Saturday night in company with Eleanor Mae Cowen, the little girl planning to visit here for two weeks. She was taken sick on Monday and a physician summoned to attend her. On Wednesday morning her condition became worse, the child passing away early this morning. She had previously been subject to the affliction which ended fatally. The little girl was born in Stevens Point on January 13, 1916. The family removed from this city to Minneapolis going to Gladstone a year and a half ago. Mr. Cowen is employed as a hatcher on the old Soo in that city. The only surviving child in the family is the infant, Doris Elaine, born last week at Gladstone. Mrs. Cowen was formerly Miss Vera McGill of this city.

Funeral arrangements have not been made although it is expected that burial will take place in Forest cemetery in this city beside the remains of the child's grandmother, Mrs. David McGill.

Winter Quarters

Winter months are months of luxury for horses. They do little and eat heavily at this season.

But the Fordson eats only when it works and its belt power is useful for feed grinding, sawing, pumping or other winter jobs.

And in the spring, as soon as the ground is fit, the Fordson and the Oliver Plow complete the plowing job promptly and economically—two very important factors to be considered now—in the interests of better crops. A full line of Oliver Plows is built specially to use with the Fordson in all soils.

Madison, May 31—Wisconsin has 350,000 automobiles. Half of them Fords.

The Ford population is constantly gaining in proportion to cars of other makes, the state tax commission finds.

Two years ago only 43 per cent of the automobiles taxed were Fords. Last year the Fords gained 7 per cent.

Fifty thousand automobiles escape taxation as personal property and 150,000 autos are put in as personal property offset against the income tax, the commission said.

Taxing automobiles has now become an economic question. The total value of motor vehicles is reaching upwards of $200,000,000.

This legislature is planning to get some additional revenue out of the automobiles. Several bills are being considered but none are far enough advanced to predict the outcome. Owners of autos may be assured, however, the legislators have them in mind and the cost of owning and operating machines is heading upwards.

Pine Tree Claw open for easy cleaning. Straight shoot for brush through short milk tubes. Clean milk tubes with small brush and test cup with large brush. Test cup need not be taken apart every washing. Pail head, with Pulsator removed, ready to be dipped in water for thorough washing.

Easy to clean and Easy to keep clean

If there is one thing more than others that Pine Tree users brag about, it is the ease of cleaning the Pine Tree. Every part of the machine touched by the milk was planned in the first place to be easily accessible, and without crevices for milk to lodge in.

I want to take you out to several Pine Tree jobs around here and let you see just how the average farmer cleans his outfit in a few minutes. No milk ever touches the Pulsator—and you take it off in a second to leave the pail head free for washing and sterilizing. The claw is perfectly open—no long tubes—no "blind tubes". The test cup and rubber tubes are easily cleaned with brushes without taking them apart every time you wash the machine. The Pine Tree has made a great reputation as the milking machine for Certified milk plants. I know of a prominent New York man who keeps his average bacteria count down below 4000 without ice or steam, right through the summer, too. Mr. R.H. Boyle of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, says he never succeeded in keeping his count down very low until he put in Pine Tree.

MANY PUREBREDS ARE SOLD

TOP PRICE OF $705 PAID BY L. E.
GORDON, JR., FOR COW
WITH HIGH RECORD

The annual sale of the Portage County Guernsey Breeders' association, held Wednesday at Amherst, was largely attended by farmers and Guernsey breeders from Portage and Waupaca counties, and a considerable number of interested buyers from other parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

More than 50 head of purebred females and bulls brought nearly $10,000. The females averaged $210, the top price being $705, paid by L. E. Gordon, Jr., of Nelsonville for a cow with an official record of 638 pounds of butterfat sold by George Larson of Amherst Junction.

Competition Spirited
Mr. Gordon secured this purchase only after spirited competition with buyers from other counties, a Waupaca county representative bidding $700. Enthusiastic applause greeted Mr. Gordon's success in retaining this wonderful cow in Portage county and the price paid was a deserved tribute to Mr. Larson's skill as a Guernsey breeder. Immediately following the sale of the cow, her five days' old son brought $230, an evidence of the value of advanced registry testing.

The top bull of the sale was an excellent individual consigned by Gordon & Peterson of the town of Amherst and brought $395 from Manitowoc county breeders.

New Barn Is Used
The new barn constructed by the Portage County Advancement association on its grounds at Amherst provided an excellent place for housing and displaying animals to interested purchasers and the sales ring and seating arrangements gave excellent accommodations for the crowd, which filled the building to the doors. The general average of prices paid was not exceptional but evidenced the confidence in the future of the Guernsey business in this part of the state. Twenty head were secured by a Waupaca county delegation of breeders headed by James Dance, the county agent. Their support added materially to the interest and success of the sale.

Visitors Entertained
On Wednesday evening the visiting farmers and breeders and their families were entertained at Amherst with various vaudeville stunts, a pavement dance with music by Weber's band of this city and other attractions.

Big Boost for County
The sale ended Thursday when a number of head of grade heifers and cows and purebred bulls were placed in the ring. This two-day event is the most elaborate sale ever staged in Portage county by any of the breed associations and marks the beginning of a program of events designed to place Portage county and its livestock interests on a par with the most advanced counties in the state.

MOEN IS OFFERED MAJORITY IN GUARD

STEVENS POINTER MAY BECOME COMMANDER OF FIRST
BATTALION OF AR-TILLERY

Shall Stevens Point have the added distinction of being the home town of a major of artillery in the Wisconsin National Guard?

This question may be answered in the affirmative if Russell Moen accepts an offer made him last week by Orlando Holway, the adjutant general, in a letter from Madison.

Gen. Holway would place Mr. Moen in command of the First Battalion, 120th Field Artillery, of which the local battery is a unit. The Stevens Point young man has written to Madison for further information, desiring to learn particularly as to the approximate time he would be expected to devote to these duties.

Mr. Moen is associated with his uncle, L. P. Moen, in the insurance business. He served overseas during the world war as first lieutenant of Battery E, 120th Field Artillery. Thirty-second division, and made an exceptional efficient officer.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

MRS. COUCH, WHO STOOD BY HUSBAND IN TRIAL, NOW
SEEKS DECREE

The hearing of the petition for the pardon of Byron Couch, formerly of Amherst, serving a sentence at the Green Bay reformatory on a charge of perjury, will be heard by Governor Blaine today.

Simultaneously with the report that Couch would ask a pardon from the governor comes the report that Mrs. Couch has started an action for divorce. The report was verified at Fond du Lac by attorneys in the case.

At the time of Couch's arrest his wife was with him and also when he was brought into justice court and during his trial at Fond du Lac on a charge of burglary. She sat holding his hands and sobbing piteously throughout the proceedings. The news of the divorce proceedings was naturally received with astonishment.

District Attorney James Murray of Fond du Lac stated that he would make strenuous objection to the petition for pardon for Couch.

BUENA VISTA MEN FORM ASSOCIATION

C. I. ECKLES ELECTED PRESIDENT

A number of interested farmers and dairymen met at the Union hall in Buena Vista Friday evening and took steps to organize a cow-testing association.

H. C. Searles of Fond du Lac explained the method of organization and the benefits to be derived from testing cows and W. S. Booker of Stevens Point gave a brief address on efficiency in agriculture from the business man's standpoint.

The following directors were elected from members who signed up at the meeting: S. E. Carley, C. I. Eckles, George Newby, Charles P. Dineen, John Yokers, Otto Weller and Harry Precourt. Immediately after their election the directors chose the following officers:

President, C. I. Eckles.
Vice-president, John Yokers.
Secretary-treasurer, Charles P. Dineen.

The association plans to make an active campaign for enough members to start operating in the near future. It is expected that work can be begun about July 1. Information about the association can be had from County Agricultural Agent W. W. Clark or any of the officers. Manager O. R. McCormick of the Buena Vista Creamery will have blank contracts for signature by any farmers who wish to make sure of securing membership in the association.

Membership will be limited to the number of herds which can be tested in 26 days. Two herds can be tested in one day if there are not more than 24 cows in the two. Up to 30 cows can be tested in one herd. The membership fee in the association is $3, which is to be used for purchase of the testing outfit and supplies and other incidental expenses. Fees for testing single herds amount to $2 a month or $1.50 each where two herds are tested in one day.

TRYING JURY CASE LAST FOR THE TERM

CIRCUIT COURT TO TAKE UP
COURT CASES NEXT—
PARK AND WERNER
EXCHANGE

(From Thursday's Daily.)
What will probably be the last jury trial to be tried at this term was begun in circuit court this morning, the action being one involving an alleged breach of contract, with P. C. Johnson as plaintiff and E. H. Goose as defendant.

After the jury had been sworn, all veniremen not engaged were excused subject to call of the court. It is unlikely, however, that their services will be needed.

Park to Appletan
Judge B. E. Park will leave next Tuesday for Appleton, where he will take the place of Judge E. V. Werner in the trial of the case of Lillian Black vs. A. E. Rector et al. This is one of the "night rider" cases growing out of Liberty bond drives during the war. Henry F. Coehome of Milwaukee, one of the plaintiff's attorneys, is reported to have been taken suddenly ill and there is a possibility the case will be continued. If it is tried, Judge Park will be absent most of the week. Court Reporter E. W. Morse, will accompany him.

Judge Werner Coming
Judge Werner will come to Stevens Point Tuesday to try two cases involving issues of fact for court. These cases are Albert Krutza vs. Mamie Hladass et al and A. L. Smongski vs. James J. Powers et al. Trial of other court cases will be taken up by Judge Park on his return from Appleton.

The following jury was drawn for the trial of the case of P. C. Johnson vs. E. H. Goose: Winfred Rothman, Ed. Frost, Claude Allen, John Kocielowski, Frank X. Kluck, Mike O'Keefe, Joseph Sultz, C. W. Drake, Frank Stroik, Louis Albert, Adolph Hetsel, Louis Miller.

Wilson Is Winner
The jury in the case of Jacob Rosholt vs. William H. Wilson retired at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and delivered its special verdict this morning. The jury held for the defendant, finding that two cows which the defendant traded to the plaintiff were not warranted by the defendant to be with calf.

OBITUARY

Mrs. James McTigue

One of Portage county's oldest residents, Mrs. James McTigue, passed away at 7:40 Wednesday morning after only a brief illness. A general breaking down of the system due to her advanced years was the direct cause of her demise. Weakness overcame her early on Tuesday and she sank into a restful sleep which ended fatally at an early hour today.

Mary Griffith was a native of County Mayo, Ireland, born there 83 years ago the 14th of last August. Coming to America some years later, she located at Hillsdale, Mich., and was married there a half century ago to James McTigue. They soon afterwards moved to Stevens Point, occupying a home near the east end of Clark street, where Mr. McTigue followed his calling as foreman in a railroad construction work until he purchased farm property in Lanark, where the family lived for 25 years and which property is now owned by a son.

In 1909 Mr. and Mrs. McTigue again became residents of this city, buying the property at 217 Dixon street. Some five years later, on Sept. 24, 1914, Mr. McTigue passed from life and since that time the widow was cared for by her older daughter, Mrs. Mary Peterson. Other surviving members of the immediate family are James McTigue of Lanark, Thomas McTigue of Minneapolis, and Mrs. George McInley of Buena Vista. Mrs. P. Bowden of this city is a sister of the deceased lady and there is one brother, Michael Griffith, at Owasco, Mich. Another brother, John Griffith, died in Michigan a couple of months ago.

Requiem, high mass will be offered up at St. Stephen's church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, the remains being then taken to St. Stephen's cemetery for interment beside the husband and three children who died in infancy.

John W. Boursier Funeral

The funeral of the late John W. Boursier of Buena Vista was held from St. Mary's Catholic church at Custer at 10 o'clock last Wednesday. Rev. L. M. Schorn officiated and burial took place in the parish cemetery. The casket bearers were Louis, Donald and Lyman Precourt, Louis Wentworth, William O'Keefe and Forest Gates.

Mrs. Harry G. Vincent

Mrs. Harry G. Vincent of Ontonagon, Mich., formerly Miss Ovidia Johnson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, 223 Briggs street, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Herman Redeman at Fremont Wednesday night following a long illness, was born in this city 32 years ago. She attended the State Normal here and following her graduation taught for several years at Peshtigo, Mattoon and Ontonagon, Mich. She was married to Mr. Vincent nine years ago and had since resided in Ontonagon. Her husband is a carpenter in that city.

The body was taken to Ontonagon for burial, accompanied by the widower and Mrs. Redeman, sister of the deceased. Other relatives are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson of this city, a sister, Mrs. A. H. Greiger of Eatonville, Wash., who was called home 10 days ago and was accompanied here by her little daughter, Miriam Georgiene, and three children, Harry, Jr., aged seven years, Dorothy, aged four and Richard, aged two. Mrs. Johnson had been at the bedside of her daughter at the Redeman home at Fremont assisting in her care for several weeks.

News of the child's death was learned by the mother, Mrs. Fred Cowen, who is in a hospital at Escanaba, Mich., upon the arrival of her husband and father, David McGill, in that city on Friday. She was reconciled to remain at the hospital without seeing her child and her father remained there with her, Mr. Cowen returning to this city for the funeral.

WAR IS REOPENED IN THE BALKANS

TAKING EXAMPLE FROM PO-LAND AND GERMANY, NATIONS SEND IRREGULARS

MACEDONIA PRIZE SOUGHT

OPERATING LIKE BANDITS,
TROOPS ARE ENCOUR-AGED AT HOME

Rome, May 31.—Sweeping down from the highlands of Macedonia and Albania, great bands of irregular soldiers today are threatening to start another Balkan war which may involve all of Europe.

The fighters—almost bandits in their mode of warfare, but driven by strong nationalist feeling—entered foreign countries. Pillage and arson marked their trail.

The governments, thus taunted, immediately planned to raise forces to combat them. The old Balkan troubles were involved in the fighting. Greece wants more land to the north; Bulgaria wants to reclaim some of the territory she lost during the war, and Serbia wants to retain newly won land. Latest advances received here showed the situation especially critical in Macedonia and Albania, whose problems were not solved by the treaties of St. Germain and Sevres.

Reports showed that large bands of irregulars have been recruited throughout the Balkans, almost every portion of the war-torn region having contributed its share of fighting men. The governments back of them either are arming to protect their legitimate interests or are preparing to back the irregulars of their own countries in an effort to extend their boundaries.

Officials here feared that before the allied supreme council or the League of Nations can intervene, the irregulars will clash with regular military forces and start a conflict which may embroil not only the Balkans, but spread through Europe.

Very Old Game.

One of the oldest games in America, in the playing of which wooden implements were used, is in vogue. Says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. It originated with Indians in prehistoric times and was widely known among the tribes of the northern United States and southern Canada at the time of the earliest explorations. The Indian called the game "imogwazy," but the French named it in cross, which name it retains.

HEBREW SUNDAY SCHOOL FORMED

DR. MORRIS CLARK HERE IN INTEREST OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AMONG HIS PEOPLE

ALL ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED AND WORK IS TO BEGIN
WITHOUT DELAY

An important movement among the Jewish residents of Stevens Point came to a head Wednesday night when plans were made for immediate organization of a Sunday school under the Union of American Hebrew Congregations department of synagogue and school extension, at a mass meeting held at Beth Israel Temple. Dr. Clark, field worker for the society, was the principal speaker at the meeting.

Leaders of Work

Practically all the Jewish residents of the city were present and the movement was heartily indorsed. The following committee was chosen to take charge of religious education of the children: Mrs. H. Weintzlik, Mrs. S. E. Kaufman, Mrs. Mendel Shafran, Mrs. Adolph Green. Teachers will be Miss Pearl Bunin, Miss Fannie Lipman, Miss Isabel Weltman, Jack Lipman and S. E. Kaufman.

There will be four grades and the religious school will be conducted every Sunday.

Purpose Explained

Dr. Clark made the following statement to the Daily Journal of the purpose of the work:

"The need to strengthen the Jewish religious institutions has been felt for a long time but has become especially urgent in these days of world reconstruction when the spiritual conscience of the world has been awakened to an unprecedented degree and men are bent on the seeking of an ideal and true solution of the problems of life. We need cooperation among the Jewish people to strengthen and fortify observance of religious teachings and study our religious heritage. We all want to be loyal Americans and in order to be loyal Jews. We Jews enjoy privileges and opportunities that the United States guarantees of citizens and it behooves us to see that our children become noble American citizens through proper religious and moral training."

How Work is Handled

The Sunday school classes will be held in the synagogue on Water street. There will be distinct classes, one embracing children from 6 to 8 years, the kindergarten class; another including the children from 9 to 12 years; a third marking the confirmation studies for children from 12 to 13 years of age; and a fourth for children from 13 to 16 years of age.

The course of instruction for the kindergartens will include short stories of biblical themes and nature talks tending to turn the children's thoughts into religious channels. The junior class will study biblical stories with "Tales from the Midrash," supplementary to the course. The course will give an insight into ancient Hebrew literature and into the characters of famous historical figures. In the confirmation class the children will be taught the higher principles of Judaism. In the high school section, 13 to 16, the students will learn the stories of the prophets, modern Jewish history, and a study of the interpretation of the Bible according to the latest scientifically approved methods. A feature of the religious instruction will be a study of Hebrew in that the original Hebrew prayers may be read.

The curriculum is standardized in the various communities where religious schools are organized under the U. of A. H. C. and books are provided by the central organization. Prominent rabbis in neighboring cities are also sent for regular inspection and conference. The rabbis also give lectures to adults. In connection with the religious instruction for children it is probable that a study circle for adults will be organized in Stevens Point in the fall.

Mr. Clark is traveling throughout the middle west organizing congregations, religious schools and study circles according to the needs of the community and it is the ultimate aim of the society to establish a state association of religious workers, with conventions at stated intervals. These conferences for the outlining and improvement of study courses have proved most beneficial in various states where they have been organized.

Leader in His Church

Dr. Clark is field secretary of the noted college of Hebrew culture at Cincinnati and was assigned to tour Wisconsin to establish schools for religious instruction in Jewish culture and religion in every city where any number of Jews live, and his success has been remarkable; his effort including the bringing together of children of both the Orthodox and Reform Jews into the one school where factional differences will not be taught, but the fundamental truths of the scriptures and Hebrew scholarship encouraged.

Loyal Americans

Dr. Clark said that it had been hoped that the great war's lessons would have made America at least free from old world bigotry and narrowness, particularly when it was considered that Jewish boys stood shoulder to shoulder with other Americans in the trenches in France and many now sleep in Flanders fields, but it remained for a well known automobile manufacturer to attempt to stir up racial antipathies and to launch a vicious attack upon the Jewish people; uncalculated for and untrue in every particular.

The speaker in his talk here urged the men and women in his audience to remain true to the principles of America; to love and honor its ideals of truth, justice and liberty, and also to stand firm for the great unchanging truths of the Jewish religion; honoring God and reverencing His temple. Dr. Clark will return here Tuesday to install the new workers and get the plan formally under way.

IN JAIL AT WAUSAU

ATHENS MAN SLASHED HIS BROTHER'S THROAT WITH RAZOR, IC CLAIM

Frank Hanneman of near Athens is in the county jail at Wausau waiting trial in circuit court on a charge of assault with intent to kill and murder. His brother, Rudy Hanneman, is lying at his home with three deep gashes in his throat and a severe wound on his head, claimed to have been inflicted by Frank. According to a report which comes from Athens, Frank was shaving Rudy Thursday. Without apparent provocation he slashed Rudy across the throat, inflicting three deep gashes before the razor was broken. Apparently crazed he then secured a hammer and struck Rudy on the head, inflicting another painful and dangerous wound. Reports today were that the wounded man is still in a critical condition.

Frank then left the house, went to where another brother was working and secured a dollar, then started away. He secured a ride as far as Little Chicago, but later was arrested at that place. He was taken to Athens and arraigned before Justice A. Neuschwander for a preliminary examination. At its conclusion he was held for trial at the next term of circuit court and in default of bail was brought to the county jail in Wausau.

Etiquette.
The word etiquette meant a label. The garden walks at Versailles were labeled and the courtiers had to keep within the "etiquettes" or labels. The meaning of the phrase was afterward widened.
